Case Discussion for Rural Management and Rural/Social Entrepreneurship

Case discussion methodology is essential experiential learning methodology for training in problem solving. Case discussion methodology for promoting management education especially rural management is proposed here. The rural economy has a vast potential for development through micro, social and innovative enterprises. Higher education Institutions need to participate in contributing in the management of Rural Enterprise and encouraging Rural/Social Entrepreneurship. It needs capacity building and human resources development in the critical areas of market linkages, rural entrepreneurship, rural technology development, microfinance, livelihoods and skill development, natural resources management, management of agriculture and technical assistance in the areas of health, education, management of village sanitation and infrastructure development.

Thus, the case discussion methodology enables the participants for a multi-disciplinary approach to tap the emerging and growing opportunities in the public and private domains of rural sector. This program will dwell into specially identified rural oriented courses that cover general principles of management and the core subjects provide students with active learning, decision making and inter personal skills.

The context and the focus are rural. This program stands out for its rural engagement component- in-depth rural field exposure, duration and frequency. It has three components of field engagement and learning opportunities for students, covering a Government Organization, a NGO and a commercial rural enterprise like a co-operative or social business enterprise. Vast online repositories through university libraries and other digital media provide a unique ability for Higher Education Institutions to share success and failure case studies and experiences in ways that were unimaginable earlier.
